PICTORIAL REVIEW

Welcomes the General Federation of Women's Clubs

Pictorial Review was the first woman's magazine to champion the cause of the club women. Four years ago, Pictorial Review stood alone in its fight. To-day, happily, many other women's publications have followed suit. Pictorial Review cordially invites the members of the Federation of Women's Clubs and their friends to visit its thirteen-story home where the magazine is published, and where the worldfamous Pictorial Review patterns are produced.

IN CONEY ISLAND FIRE MEN'S DOGS LEADING FIGURES

One Gives Alarm, Another Is Saved and the Third Is Suffocated.

Dogs figured largely in a twoalarm fire early this morning when $5,000 damage was done to Silver's bathing pavilion at the foot of West Twenty-third Street, Coney Island. One dog, Beauty, gave the alarm by barking, and awoke Daniel Kiley, the night watchman. Another dog, Baby, was rescued by Harry Silver, one of the proprietor's sons. A third dog. Testsie, gets its name in the story by being suffocated.

The fire originated from an overheated pipe in the engine room. Kiley woke Bernard Silver, the wner, his wife and their six children, and also Morris Yarshinoff and his wife. Yarshinoff runs a restaurant in connection with Silver's bathing establishment. All got out safely and without danger. The pavilion was about to be opened for the summer season.
